

Management & Leadership

A seminar on result oriented management & leadership

The fast changing market environment and high degree of competition makes it imperative to have committed and involved staff dedicated to their company with a strong customer focus. This demands effective leadership skills with an emphasis on facilitation and efficient use of resources.

Concept

This 3-day seminar is followed by two implementation sessions. The course takes a new approach, accentuating effective and result-driven management and leadership. It addresses the core issues of leadership competence and its impact on staff.

Objective

Provide participants with the knowledge and tools to lead efficiently and effectively in a demanding environment.

Main Topics

- Leadership philosophy
- Management strategy
- Professional management
- Principles of effective leadership
- Tasks and tools
- Quality in management
- Communication and negotiation
- Time management
- About conflict
- Social and emotional competence

Benefits

The participants will have a thorough understanding of the concept of leadership, and leave with an awareness and the ability to use the available tools to lead effectively. Knowledge acquired on this important subject will improve the work environment and lead to improved results.

The follow-up sessions serve as refreshers, and ensure an appropriate implementation of the seminar content.

Costs

The training groups consist normally of a minimum of 8 to a maximum of 12 participants. The fee is subject to actual location and services included.
